Overview

How much does an air conditioner cost in Ottawa?

You can find units with 12 year parts and even lifetime unit replacement warranties! In summation, Air Conditioner prices vary greatly in the Ottawa area. With our relatively short but hot summers, we tend to see clients spending $3000-$4500 on average for their air conditioners, with many people opting for 14-16 SEER units.

Should you buy a new central air conditioner in Ottawa?

Buying a new central air conditioner can be more affordable than many Ottawa homeowners initially assume. In addition to standard financing, zero-interest and bad-credit loans are available, providing an option for practically every financial situation.

How do I choose the best air conditioner contractor in Ottawa?

People often fret over the brand of air conditioner to buy, but choosing the best contractor in Ottawa is every bit as important. Not only is the quality of the workmanship and installation crucial to the air conditioner's lifespan, the company you choose will be relied on for future servicing and warranty coverage.

How much does a central a/C unit cost in Ottawa?

$3,500 – $4,500 If you buy a new high-efficiency central A/C unit in Ottawa, you can expect to pay an average of $4,000 to $5,000. Exact pricing will depend on the model you choose as well as its size, your location, and the HVAC contractor you buy your unit from.

Why should you hire an HVAC contractor in Ottawa?

That's backwards for a number of reasons, the first of which is because quality HVAC contractors in Ottawa can help consumers find the best central air for their specific needs (size of house, sun/shade positioning, hours active, etc).
