Can I send Spare lithium batteries by air freight?

You cannot send loose spare lithium metal batteries by air freight. Sending lithium-ion batteries by air freight is similar to the rules you must follow when sending lithium batteries by sea freight. You can choose to send them inside their respective devices, or you can send them separately in a container with a hard case.

Can I ship lithium batteries by airmail?

You will need to contact your local postal authority to see if you be able to ship them by surface methods i.e. sea, road and rail. If you have to send the lithium batteries by air, then you will need to send them with a freight company. Can I Ship Lithium Batteries that are contained in equipment, such as a mobile phone, by Airmail?

Can You Send AA batteries overseas?

When you need to send regular lithium metal batteries such as AA or AAA batteries, you need to send them in a hard plastic casing. On the whole, it is not recommended to transport these batteries overseas because the risks outweigh the costs. They are more likely to corrode or leak in damp and humid conditions – especially if they are partly used.

Can I ship a faulty lithium battery abroad?

Don't ever ship damaged or faulty lithium batteries as they are known to catch fire easily. Whether you're sending batteries or anything else abroad, Packlink can be your best friend when it comes to international shipping.

Can I send batteries abroad?

If you're trying to send batteries abroad, the most important thing you need to pay attention to is that they're packaged carefully. Even if you obey the shipping restrictions, not knowing how to safely pack batteries (or other electronic items, for that matter) can land you in a whole heap of trouble.

Can You Send lithium batteries by air?

IATA is actually quite adamant about not allowing anyone to send lithium batteries by air. There is a catch, though: this restriction only applies to lithium metal batteries by themselves, i.e. not placed inside or next to a device they are meant to power.
