Customized solar off-grid inverter

Overview

Do off-grid solar inverters need grid power?

UTL's off-grid solar inverters don't require grid power to work. That means you can run the inverter, to convert the variable DC generated by the panels to utility frequency AC, at a place that is far away from the utility power grid.

What is an off-grid solar inverter system?

An off-grid solar inverter system is a type of solar inverter system that is connected directly to a residence or commercial site to work with the building's mains. Since the customer has no access to the grid, a battery (which isn't cheap) is required for storing excess energy.

How does an on-grid solar inverter function?

An on-grid solar inverter, also known as a grid-tied inverter, converts the DC power from solar panels into AC power that can be fed back into the electrical grid. With this setup, homeowners can either build credit to reduce their bills for when they need the grid – called net metering – or, depending on where they live, get paid a feed-in-tariff (FIT) for the excess energy they produce.
